LeClaire nominated twice, wins 2nd spot

Philcox unanimous choice for Mayor

PLEASANTON — Robert Philcox became mayor and Joyce LeClaire vice - mayor as the new city council reorganized itself yesterday.

LeClaire was nominated first for the mayor's seat by new councilman Ken Mercer, but Mercer's motion did not receive a second. Brandes then nominated Philcox. The roll was called alphabetically and Herlihy, second to vote and still under the impression he might be able to get the nod, voted "no". But when he saw the other four council members voting for Philcox, he changed his vote to "yes" to "support our new mayor".

Mercer then nominated LeClaire for vice - mayor and the vote for her was unanimous.

There had been rumors that citizens would attend the meeting yesterday to present a petition on behalf of one of the candidates, reportedly Herlihy, for the mayor's job. But Herlihy killed any possibility when as chairman of the reorganization meeting he said the council would proceed with no "community input" and "no petitions".

Philcox and LeClaire backed up the ban on petitions, with Philcox declaring it could set a precedent for future council reorganizations "which could get out of hand". The decision ought to be solely up to the council, the three mayoralty candidates agreed, while Brandes and Mercer looked on silently.

The reorganization came after farewell speeches from departing Mayor Ed Kinney and Councilman Roger McLain.

Kinney presented a dozen long - stemmed red roses to City Clerk Doris George who accepted them on behalf of the entire city staff. He advised the new council members to "not only understand the issues, but also the people behind the issues. Running a city is not only issues but people. Make your decisions alive and human."

A tear came to Kinney's eye and he quipped that he "started the evening as the mayor and wound up as the town crier." He quoted advice from the late mayor, Bernard Ger-ton, when Kinney first came to the council four years ago: "Be prepared to vote against your friends. It's the toughest thing to do. But if you are voting right, vote right regardless of what your friends think."

McLain said that in his 10 months service on the council, he helped the city improve in many ways which did not always make headlines.

He gave special thanks to his wife and daughter who stuck by him, even when they had to read attacks on him in the newspapers during the campaign.

MP group wary of sewer bids

PLEASANTON — The city's desire to add 291 sewer connections to the Sunol Boulevard treatment plant may be opposed by Mission Park residents.

Mission Park resident Chuck Seymour, who said his sentiments agree with many neighbors, said there will be a delegation at the Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board March 16 to speak out about the city's move.

The residents could change their minds after a meeting coming up at 10 a.m. Saturday at the city council chambers, 30 W. Angela St., with Assistant City Manager Alan Campbell.

Campbell called the meeting to explain the city's request and review improvements in odor control at the plant.

But as of right now, Seymour and many neighbors are expressing "very cautious opposition" to "We have great reservations about adding the connections. It will mean another 80,000 gallons per day, bringing the 1.4 million gallons per day to 1.5 mgd," said Seymour. "The plant capacity is 1.7 mgd. And it is important that the city keep enough reserve capacity just in case there is a mystery surge of sewage as there was with VCS's mystery million gallons."

The other problem is the odor, which sometimes wafts its way over Mission Park. The city's efforts to control the odor have been successful lately, but in the fall there were problems, said Seymour. He thinks that adding another 80,000 gallons per day may upset the balance in the odor control system and bring back Mission Park's odor problem.

Campbell told The Times yesterday that another 80,000 gallons per day won't aggravate the odor problem.

Closed session for pact talks

PLEASANTON — The Pleasanton Joint School District board is scheduled to review a teacher contract proposal Thursday night in executive session, even though the document was presented in a regular, open meeting and the county council could not determine yesterday if the Educational Code permits such a procedure.

Trustees are scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. in the District Educational Center, 123 Main St.

The 53 - page document was presented at a regular meeting last week by Tom Zach, representing the Amador Valley Teachers Association.

Trustees, at the time, took the contract proposal for 1976-77 under advisement, not discussing it at that time.

County counsel could not verify late yesterday if a school board could in fact review the document in closed (to the public and press) session.

Section 13089 of the Education Code deals with presentation of a proposal by an employee group, stating it must be done in a public session.

This was done last week, though when news media reps stepped forward to get copies of the proposal they were initially stalled.

Copies of the contract proposal were available yesterday afternoon to the public.

A county counsel office spokesman said he wasn't sure what section of the Education Code would cover review of contract proposals by boards. He did make a statement that county counsel represents administrations of county school districts but not individual employees or groups of employees.

District superintendent Bruce Newlin was not available for comment late yesterday afternoon.

At last night's Amador board meeting, the group representing Amador district teachers presented their contract proposal for 1976-77. Presumably the Amador board will now review the document at a session to be scheduled in the next couple of weeks.

Valley teachers ready for contract huddle

(This is the first of two stories looking at the contract proposal presented by the Amador Valley Teachers Association and to be reviewed Thursday night by the Pleasanton Joint School District board at 7:30 p.m. in the district offices)

If their 53-page contract proposal is any criteria, the Amador Valley Teachers Association will go to the negotiations table well - prepared to discuss each and every negotiable item as prescribed under the terms of the new collective bargaining bill.

The AVTA bargaining team consists of John Lanto, chairman, Joe Goodrich, Virginia Madden, Hershel Culley, Don Smith and Katherine Herlihy.

The document presented last week proceeds with definition of terms and goes on to cover everything from negotiation procedures to treatment of personnel files, association rights, personal and academic freedom, grievance procedure, teaching hours, extra curricular duties, class size, certified employee evaluations, employee benefits, school calendar and working conditions.

If there is something the teachers have left out, no one has noticed it yet.

Since they are the lone teacher group in the Pleasanton district, AVTA will not be slowed by a representation election as will be the case in San Ramon and, possibly, in the Murray district.

And if Lanto's comments, reported in a Times guest editorial of two weeks ago, are indicative, negotiations should proceed in a smooth, forthright manner.

Then, again, it may depend on who's doing the talking at any given time.

Trustees and administration will take their first concerted look at the contract proposal tomorrow night. A more precise estimation on how negotiations will proceed may be forthcoming after Thursday's session.

Today, the article on working conditions and salary will be reviewed.

Under the former, AVTA has made the following proposal:

The district shall not institute in any school any new programs or philosophies which affect existing programs or methods of instruction without the consent of the majority of the teachers affected by the change.

Teachers who do not choose to take part in said new programs shall be given every opportunity to be transferred to a position mutually agreed to by said teacher and the board.

Also, the aforementioned vote shall be conducted by the association. The results shall be forwarded to the board within five days of the election.

In tomorrow's edition, The Times will take a look at the sections on certificated employee evaluations, employee benefits and class size.

Amador eyes pay package

DUBLIN — Jim Carroll of the Amador Valley Secondary Educators Association presented a 65 page contract proposal to Amador Valley District board members last night.

The proposal seeks an annual adjustment in salaries beginning July 1 to reflect increases in the cost of living, as indicated by the Consumers Price Index of the Bay Area and computed by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. This is estimated to be close to 8 per cent at present.

Also sought are maintenance of all existing benefits, 175 teaching days and no work days, a state student - teacher ratio not to exceed 24 to 1, no more than 1,250 minutes of student contact per week and 500 minutes or 10 unassigned periods every two weeks for preparation and planning.

Under employee benefits, teacher health insurance including prescription drug coverage on a deductible basis, dental insurance and vision care plan (for dependents also).

I-680 overpass faces crucial legislature test

Assemblyman Floyd Mori's move aimed at gaining legislative approval for an I-680 overpass in Pleasanton is now headed for an important committee hearing, probably next week.

The Times learned last week that Mori was attempting to bring the controversial question of an I-680 overpass to the legislature for possible funding.

"I think we have a good chance because there are so many arguments in favor of Pleasanton's position," Mori has stated. The city has always contended that the state built that freeway virtually cutting off access to one-third of the community, and creating a north-south barrier for four miles, extending from I-580 to the interchange at Bernal Avenue. Pleasanton has had several proposals for providing overpasses across I-680, either at W. Las Positas or at Stoneridge Drive. However there has been no suggestion for obtaining the necessary financing — pegged at better than $1.5 million — other than a local bond issue.

Mori has pointed out that "while money for highway projects is admittedly tight, other communities have gained special consideration from the legislature, and I think Pleasanton has a good chance, based on merit."

Mori's first challenge will be to get his bill through the Assembly Transportation Committee. The I-680 overpass would be part of a six-year plan for funding, and could be accomplished anytime within those six years, if it gains approval from the Assembly.

Race for three Zone 7 seats

Incumbents out, Miller and 3 others in

The race for three seats on the board of directors of Zone 7 firmed up yesterday after announcements by incumbents Robert C. Becker and Harlan Zodtner that they would not be candidates, confirmation by retiring Livermore City Councilman Donald G. Miller that he would, and requests by Tom Schweser, Larry Bakken, and Gib Marguth for nomination papers.

Voters will choose three directors for the board of Zone 7, Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, on June 8.

Zone chairman David Harris, whose seat expires in June, has announced he will seek re - election.

In addition to Miller, Schweser, Bakken, Marguth and Harris, other candidates for the race are outgoing Pleasanton mayor Ed Kinney, outgoing Livermore mayor Archer Futch, and registered construction inspector Michael Stanley.

In refusing to run for re - election, directors Becker and Zodtner have cleared the way for at least two new directors on the board.

Bowing out of the race, Becker said he decided not to run again because of the "amount of time I have devoted to various local boards over the last twenty years."

Elected to two terms on the zone board, Becker has also served on the Livermore Housing Authority, Livermore Unified High School Board of Trustees and board of directors of Valley Memorial Hospital.

Citing the accomplishments of the boards during his tenure, Becker said he looks back over the period with "personal satisfaction," but added the time had come to end his participation.

In announcing his decision to retire from the board, Zodtner said he had enjoyed his nearly twelve years of service. Zodtner was appointed to the board in 1964, and was elected to two terms thereafter.

Miller's declaration of candidacy did not surprise many.

Retiring from the Livermore City Council this week, Miller has been an outspoken critic of the zone efforts to "get into the sewer business."

In a statement issued yesterday Miller charged "the present majority of (the zone) board no longer puts the people's interest first."

"Artificially high water rates,"

Miller said, "provide for expansion for developers without your approval."

"Special interest influence on the present board majority," Miller continued, "is shown by (the majority's) action to back out on their agreement with Valley Community Services District, Livermore and Pleasanton, an agreement which would have prevented the sewerage of Gelderville."

Miller referred to the ill - fated "memo of understanding" between the zone and the Livermore - Amador Valley Water Management Agency, a joint powers agency of municipalities within the valley.

Miller said "incumbents who do the special interests' bidding" should be replaced with people who "have an established reputation for representing the public's interest" and who will "cooperate with other valley agencies."

Tom Schweser, zone staff reported yesterday, has requested nomination papers.

Schweser is a former Valley Community Services District director.

Former Livermore City Councilman Gib Marguth confirmed yesterday that he has taken out nomination papers, too. But Marguth said he had yet to decide whether he would be a candidate.

Marguth had been mentioned as a candidate for County Supervisor, but he said he declined to seek that post because of the time commitment it requires.

He is co - chairman of the Livermore Bicentennial Organization.

Marguth must decide by March 12, the day all nomination papers are due.

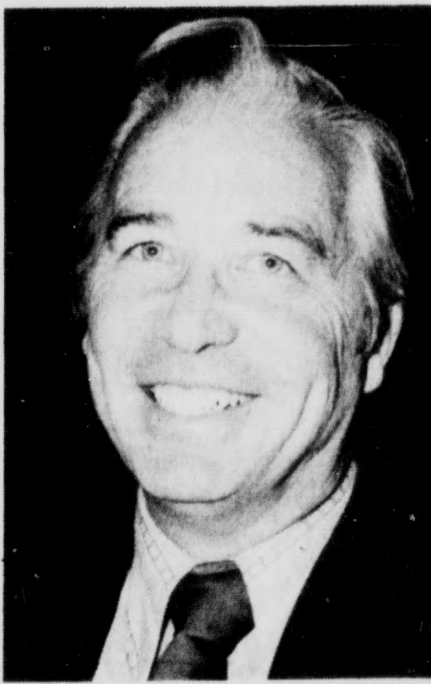

A civil engineer and lawyer, Bakken said he is running for the zone board "because the present board has had a hard time firming up its direction." He said the zone's authority to sewer would be the biggest issue in the campaign. But Bakken added, "I haven't decided yet how I feel about that."

Bakken is an administrator in Lawrence Livermore Laboratory's classification office.

He served a campaign treasurer for Dick Wright in the last Livermore municipal election.

Bakken ran for the zone board in 1974, finishing last in a nine - man race.

Juveniles arrested for burglary, pot, weapon

LIVERMORE — Two juveniles who attempted to break into a car on Genoa Street Monday night were arrested after police found burglary tools, marijuana seeds and a dangerous weapon in their possession.

A Genoa Street resident spotted the youths attempting to break into his 1967 VW bug, then saw the pair run into a neighboring house after he chased them off.

Police responded to the house and could not find the suspects, but smelled the odor of burnt marijuana in a bedroom. A small box containing a quantity of marijuana seeds was found in an open dresser drawer.

The suspects returned to the house a short time later and had screwdrivers, pliers and other burglary tools in their possession. Four bottles of liquor, three of which were unopened, were discovered in the bedroom.

One of the youths, a 15-year-old Granada High School student, was booked on suspicion of burglary, possession of burglary tools, simple possession of marijuana, and possession of a dangerous weapon. The other juvenile, a 10-year-old Arroyo Mocho School student, was booked on suspicion of burglary and possession of burglary tools.

The youths were released at the scene with notices to appear in court.

Vandals destroy rest rooms at Mobil Station

PLEASANTON — Vandals caused extensive damage to both the men's and women's rest rooms at Covey's Mobil Station on Hopyard Road at Interstate 580 late Saturday.

Police reported that vandals entered the men's room about 10:30 Saturday night, broke a large mirror, pulled a paper dispenser, divider and basin from the wall, and yanked the seat off the toilet. A mirror and paper dispenser in the women's room were also wrecked.

After fingerprints were taken, three suspects were questioned and released. Police expect more leads after physical evidence is evaluated.

PLEASANTON — A 15-year-old Amador High School student arrested Sunday for drunk driving was discovered to possess a baggie of marijuana but no drivers license, police said Monday.

Officer Craig Veteran noticed a car swerving left to right on Vineyard Avenue Sunday evening and administered a field sobriety test to the driver. Upon failing the test, the young driver demanded a breathalyzer test.

After failing a breath test at the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center, the girl was booked on suspicion of drunk driving and driving without licensing. When a search of the girl's belongings uncovered a baggie of suspected marijuana, a complaint of simple possession of marijuana was added.

The girl was released to her grandfather with a notice to appear in court.

County fair allotment cut $10,000 by state

The County Fair Association will not receive a full allotment from the state as it is entitled to and has received in past years.

Fairs throughout the state may receive $65,000, no matter the size of the fair, to be used towards operating expenses.

Lee Hall, secretary-manager of the Alameda County Fair Association, reported to board members last night that the budgeting committee for fairs notified Hall they will receive $55,000 for the coming year.

The allocation amount has been a source of irritation to Alameda County Fair Association management and board members for some time.

All concerned have felt they are, in effect, being penalized for operating a successful and prospering fair.

Small fairs, such as ones in north state or in the Sierras, may receive as much as a fair the size of the local one—$65,000. In this instance, though, Alameda will receive $55,000 or $10,000 less than may go to many much smaller operations which local fair people feel may not be prospering.

In other business, board members announced establishment of a Juan Gonzales Memorial Race to be held each year during the Alameda County Fair race season. Their will also be a perpetual award in Gonzales' memory to the leading jockey during the Alameda County Fair race season.

Gonzales was killed during a race last Fair season at the Pleasanton track. He and his family were Pleasanton residents.

Hall also announced that three headliners have been confirmed for this summer's County Fair. Set to appear at the Amphitheatre are George Kirby, a comedian, Spike Jones, Jr. and his band and Flash Cadillac. The latter is a novelty rock group in the same vein as Sha Na Na.

Hall also reported that the first edition of a four-page Fair Bulletin will be out on or about April 1. The editions are being put together by Pete Bailey, assistant fair manager.

Chabot needs banjo picker

LIVERMORE — Chabot College's Valley Campus needs the help of some very special valley residents in staging a bicentennial celebration May 22.

A fiddler and a banjo picker, highlights of community gatherings in America's early days, are needed to lend that same special touch to the pre-200th birthday celebration.

To complete the feeling of authenticity, the public is invited to bring artifacts of the period 1776 - 1876. Booths will be set up for display, and each exhibitor is urged to provide a commentary about the items' history to interested viewers.

By having each exhibitor explain the historical background or personal memories about the artifacts, "the display will avoid a stale museum-like setting," Valley Campus history instructor Esther Goldberg said.

Another attraction designed to bring history closer is the Oral History Corner. Senior valley residents will be asked to tell personal remembrances about different parts of the valley, interesting personalities of the era, and prevailing politics involving local issues long since settled.

Tape recorders will be set up to record each historical vignette. Seniors from all over the valley are needed to participate in order to make it a great learning experience.

The celebration will begin at 9:30 a.m. with a giant balloon lift - off, weather permitting. Then, participants in the Premiere Memorial Benjamin Franklin Kite - Flying Contest will line up and compete for prizes. Stuart Inglis, Valley Campus faculty member, will coach, referee and award prizes.

The antique and artifact display, entitled Artifacts of the First Hundred Years, will present collections of tools, clothes, toys, books, stamps, watches and other items in common usage in early America.

The Presidio's Revolutionary War Marching and Drill Group will perform, including a demonstration of the use of black powder.

Demonstrations of old-time chores, including butterchurning, spinning, and other day-to-day tasks, will be featured. Chili prepared from an old California recipe will spice up the day, along with different foods of the era.

Songfests, marching, games, food and contests are planned as part of the celebration. Everyone is invited to participate and attend the celebration, lasting from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

For information on joining the celebration, contact Marge O'Leary (ext. 10) or Shirley West (ext. 11) at 455-5300.

New home for council

A building originally used as a construction shed now houses the Children's Emergency Council of Dublin behind the John Knox Presbyterian Church at Amarillo Road in Dublin.

Use of the building has been donated rent-free by the Rev. Jim Griffes of John Knox Church, who also supplied council volunteers with an electric heater and a desk.

Under the co-chairmanship of Brenda Bodie and Joyce Rockwell, the shed has been completely redone, with new shelves, flooring and draperies. Representatives from surrounding churches answer incoming emergency calls on a volunteer basis, and some churches are now making regular monthly donations to the council as a mission fund.

Another local woman, Carol Lopez, donates time as a bookkeeper for the Emergency Council.

Anyone in the Dublin-San Ramon community seeking emergency aid in the form of clothing or food may call 828-5363 anytime, night or day. Those seeking assistance may also visit the council's office Tuesday or Thursday between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The same telephone number may be used by persons willing to donate food, clothing or time to the worthwhile project.

Joyce Rockwell stands in the doorway of an old construction shed which has been donated by John Knox Presbyterian Church for use by the Dublin Children's Emergency Council. They can now provide 24-hour emergency assistance.

Anglers enjoy good week

Charlie Litz

ARMOND AIKENS, Dave Hughes, Bob Quillin and Bill Vahlensieck sure did all right on a fishing trip last Sunday.

They left Half Moon Bay, headed South for an hour or so and started fishing for Rock Fish.

No luck for some time.

Then all the good things started to happen. Seems as though the boys took along fishing gear that was too small. Rods cracked, gears stripped and lines busted. A 27-pounder was the largest catch of the day. They landed Blues, Red Snapper and Ling Cod.

They plan on larger tackle next time and there will sure be another time, too.

When they got the fish cleaned and filleted, there was nine plus pounds apiece.

LARRY SMITH reports a whopping big day out at the Livermore - Pleasanton Rod and Gun Club's Ham and Bacon Shoot. The meat hunters sure showed up, Larry says. More than 70 hams were handed out as prizes.

HOW ABOUT A short letter to the following assemblymen for their efforts in defeating AB-2426 (Jan 14-76) and let them know you appreciate their efforts?

They are John Knox (D. 11th Dist.), Ken Maddy (R. 30th Dist.), Bruce Nestande (R. 70th Dist.) and Art Torres (D. 56th Dist.).

Assemblymen Torres and Richard Alatorre withdrew their names as co-authors of the bill. In the final analysis they say they could not in good conscience support AB-2426.

These men can certainly appreciate a word from gun owners.

THE CALIF. RIFLE and Pistol Assoc. Inc has announced an extremely important legislative fund raising project. It has been scheduled for May 14, 15 and 16.

Firearms and Individual Rights (F.A.I.R.) will conduct another of its outstanding gun shows at the Great Western Exhibit in Los Angeles and has donated 10 tables to the California Wildlife Federation. C.R.P.A.'s legislative partner in Sacramento is soliciting donated merchandise which will be sold from the 10 tables at the F.A.I.R. show. Unused equipment, apparel, shooting accessories and supplies should be forwarded to the C.W.F., care of Cole Sporting Goods, 1030 LaBrea Ave., Inglewood, Ca., 90301.

Let's have all 10 tables stacked 10 feet high with donated merchandise.

Every penny realized from this project will be spent in an all out lobbying effort to protect the interests of all outdoor sportsmen.

If you don't have time to wrap up and send those few articles, put them in a box, print F.A.I.R. on the outside, and drop the package at 3918 Stanford Way, Livermore. It will be delivered to Los Angeles.

IF YOU REALLY want to see what this so called "U.S. Conference of Mayors" is up too, write the mayor of your city and request that he furnish you with a copy of "Hand Gun Control — Issues and Alternatives."

It is published by the 1975 U.S. Conference of Mayors.

Then you'll really see how these people are trying to do in American gun owners.

You can also discover how your own tax dollars are being used against you.

SR thinclads lose opener

It's a strange spring at San Ramon Valley High School. Apparently a five-year era has past.

San Ramon's track team, lacking the much needed depth which it has had in past years, fell to Skyline High School of Oakland, yesterday, by a decisive 87-55 score. The Wolves' frosh-soph team also lost, 80-62.

The Wolves, for years dependent on the talent of Roy Kission, Mike Dayton, Kurt Wolmer and Matt Preiwe were lacking these figures who contributed from six to 24 points per meet.

They're gone now. Perhaps the Wolves, too. According to San Ramon coach Dan Stevens, however the Wolves should be in contention for the EBAL title.

"We're really looking good. We've got some good people."

Stevens went on to add "We're not as deep as we were in the past. I would have to say no team in the EBAL will go undefeated."

The absence of junior Fritz Venker, who decided on the transition from track to baseball will hurt.

Venker, a super sprinter and jumper, would have easily been Steven's best all-around man.

In yesterday's meet, senior Mike Bowles, a 215-pounder, won the 100, shot put, and the discus for the Wolves and took second in the 220.

Ray Roberson won the triple jump for Skyline and was a part of the mile-relay team and took second in the high jump.

Standing out for the Wolves was Pat McChristy who won the pole vault with a 12-foot effort, and Randy Harrington who won the high jump with a 6-2½ leap.

Paul Newcomb took the two-mile for the Wolves in the frosh - soph with a 10.44 clocking. Bill Wilson won the 100-yard dash for San Ramon at 10.5. In the varsity discus Bowles had a 159½ effort, excellent for the early season.

Pats: No conflicts with Kapp

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New England Patriots President William H. Sullivan, in a deposition read in court Tuesday, said, "We had no disagreement with Joe Kapp."

"It (the disagreement) was between Kapp and the National Football League," the statement continued.

Sullivan's deposition, taken in August, 1972 after Kapp had filed an antitrust suit against the NFL, was read in U.S. District Court by attorneys for the former quarterback who seeks a multimillion dollar settlement from the league and its clubs which allegedly forced him out of football.

United takes 9-0 State Cup win

Ballistic United overwhelmed the Dublin Cobras at both ends of the field for a 9-0 soccer victory last weekend in the State Cup.

The tight United defense of Paul Shuey, Brandon Baxter, Scott Stanko and Brian Warman prevented

Dublin from firing even one shot on goal.

Meanwhile the Ballistic scorers went wild.

Marty Farris scored three times for the winners, while David Irish and Gary Daniels earned two goals each. Brian War-man and Nicky Pearson also scored.

In another under-10 rout, the Ballistic Centaurs blanked the Carmichael Wildcats, 8-0. Shawn Salazar and Will Hayes scored two goals apiece. Other scores went to Fred Biletnikoff, Mike Duesterhaus, Jason Maratsos and Rusty Witt. Chuck Ogren and Biletnikoff combined for six saves in the nets. Fullbacks Paul Romero and Kevin Musket dominated defensively, and Chuck Ogren played well in the midfield. Gordon Lang and Chris Wayne played well.

In a local State Cup under-12 battle, United edged the Diablos, 1-0, on Scott Strommer's penalty kick. Diablo goalkeeper Jim Pe-tersson played well with six saves. Tony Cheverria, Eric Arteaga, Matt Duffy and Rob Rein were outstanding for the Diablo offense. Defensively, Scott Taylor, Jim Emerick, Matt Falty and Kevin Liskie played well.

Back on the right track

Mike Zampa

Back in the spring of 1931 Dave Castro was preparing for his senior track season at John Swett High School in Crockett.

Problem was in those depression days, most schools had one coach for an entire athletic department. So while Swett's Blaine Stevens was preparing to take over the baseball team (it looked like a pennant contender) the track squad was left fatherless.

"If you want to beg and plead with every prima donna in the school to come out, then you can coach the team," Stevens told young Castro. He eagerly accepted the challenge.

And for 25 years since Dave Castro has been coaching young boys and girls. In football, basketball, baseball, swimming, and his favorite, track. Though his is 63 now, and slowed by a serious stroke that hit three years ago, Castro is still coaching.

His latest assignment is with the new St. Michael's Livermore Track Club. So new the organization is conducting registration this evening and won't hold its first official practice until tomorrow night.

DAMIAN STOCKING

He has been coached for several months by Castro, who had taken a team of third graders at St. Michael's School in basketball. Dave watched Damian dashing up and down the court one afternoon and asked his parents, "Does he run like that all the time?"

They affirmed his suspicions, and Castro assumed control of the youngster's progress.

Damian ran cross country meets in Pleasant Hill and Redwood City and qualified for the Jr. Olympic meet in Los Angeles. He was becoming a precocious marathon star until he threw up at the starting line down South and had to withdraw.

Partly for the sake of their son, partly for the kids of Livermore, the Stocking family decided with Castro to form their Livermore track club. The nearest AAU age group team is in Orinda, points out Gerada, which is a long way to drive a kid to run.

Livermore youngsters need their own program, however, the Stockings felt, and so, they will have it. They hope to sign up as many as 50 grade school youngsters. Already there are 15 working out with the club.

Three of the boys, Damian, Rod Gutierrez and Craig Rogers, recently competed in a mile and a half run sponsored by the San Ramon school district. Their times ranged from 9:31 to 9:33. The winner posted a 9:30, but he was a sixth grader. Gutierrez and Rogers are in the fourth grade. Damian is still in the third.

Parents can register their youngsters for the club this evening, 6 to 7:30 p.m., at Stockings Bakery, 2020 First St. in Livermore. It will cost $5 per youngster, or $10 for an entire family. The young athletes must bring two birth certificate copies.

Practices will be held weekday evenings at Livermore High School.

A team of five adults will assist in the coaching. But Castro will be in charge. Though he walks with a cane now it hasn't bothered his teaching ability.

All of his adult life Castro has taught grade school youngsters how to play games.

He was never a star athlete himself, and in fact didn't play after high school. Castro bounced from job to job, working at the C&H Sugar Refinery in Crockett, operating a crane at Alameda Naval Air Station, routing mail for the post office, delivering rocket-powered weapons to naval vessels in Korea and finally, as a school bus driver in Pomona.

It was there that Dave became the versatile coach at St. Joseph's grade school. In his time he coached three baseball champions, a couple of basketball champions and 10 swimming teams that won titles.

Among his pupils were football players who later participated in Rose Bowls for USC and Stanford. One of his prospects was Dennis Shaw, once a Buffalo Bill quarterback. Another was Rocky Long, an All-American from New Mexico.

They weren't necessarily his prize students. Talent in a grade school kid didn't impress Castro. Desire did.

"If there's any favoritism on my teams, it's to the kids who are dedicated and work hard," he says. "Those are the ones who play for me."

Because he can't run or jump any longer, Castro says he was hesitant to assume command of the Stockings' track club. "But they were just so much for track. I may not be able to run with the kids any more, but I can still teach them my techniques."

The coaching position is a voluntary one for Dave. The benefits are inner-directed. Castro says he does it simply to help other people, especially youngsters.

"I was walking along the street one day," he says, and I lost my balance and fell flat on my face. It was embarrassing to think that this kind of thing could happen to me at age 63, and I was so bitter I screamed in anger. Then all of the sudden two boys from Livermore High School came over. I didn't even learn their names. But they picked me up and asked if I was all right.

"I was never so proud to know that kids still respect older people. I knew I had moved to the right town."

Mats bats crush Liberty

BRENTWOOD — There were times in the past Granada High could go a month without scoring five runs.

Yesterday it took the Matadors an inning.

By the time they finished embarrassing Liberty, 16-3 in non-league baseball all memory of offensive anemia had vanished.

Granada is bidding for the EBAL pennant this year. It tuned up yesterday by racking Liberty pitchers Joe Cardoso, Phil Carvajal and Tony Berumen for 12 hits. That confirmed the earlier predictions of Granada coach Dennis Berger who has said that for the first time since the invention of lightweight alloys that Granada will swing some heavy bats this year.

Despite all of that yesterday's big story should have been starting pitcher Steve Stone. He went four good innings, striking out eight and yielding one feeble single. Liberty nudged just one ball to the outfield against Stone who threw 74 pitches.

But the Lions won't make anyone forget the 1927 Yankees. For years neither did the Matadors. So you have to look at the way they swung the bat in Brentwood. Scott Trudeau who will play either first base, third base or designated hitter, then (but definitely somewhere) this year, crashed his second home run in two games for Granada. It was a two-run shot in the fourth inning which expanded the Matadors' lead to 14-0.

Trudeau also mashed a pair of triples and drove in four runs. One of the three base hits nearly uprooted a row of pine trees 400 feet from home plate.

Stone, who answered questions about his ability to anchor Granada's pitching staff, raised some new queries about who the best hitter will be. He went three-for-four with a double and six runs batted in.

Bill Jespersen doubled home two of Granada's five runs in the first inning and Daryl Stone produced another with a single.

All of the Liberty runs were unearned. The Lions scored two against Stone in the fourth inning, thanks to two errors and a weak single up the middle by Dave Wolfenberger.

Bob Parness relieved for Granada and held Liberty down until forfeiting another unearned run in the seventh inning. Parness struck out seven and allowed just one infield hit. He took two hours, forty-five minutes to play the contest, which was more time than Abner Doubleday spent inventing it. He would have cringed at the state of his creation.

Liberty committed six errors and Granada, four.

The Matadors suffered the embarrassment of having runners picked off second base on successive plays in the seventh inning.

Liberty meanwhile, contributed some low comedy when catcher Frank Hansen stepped wide of the plate to reach an expected pitchout, but Cardoso threw a hard inside fastball that sailed to the screen.

It's still the pre-season, however, and mistakes are the norm more than the exception. As long as the Matadors keep hitting the ball, however, they can live with goats.

Pokes, DV end in tie

Livermore High School's baseball team opened the 1976 non-league season yesterday with a game at Del Valle and found that Mother Nature was a bigger obstacle than the host Trojans.

The teams fought to a 1-1 tie in a game called after nine innings as heavy gusts of wind held down the batting attacks.

The Cowboys failed to get a hit until the seventh inning when Rick Gildea blasted a single to center field with two outs but Pete Fallon grounded out to end the inning.

Del Valle pitcher Mike Coulter had set down the Cowboys with just two walks until the seventh.

The Trojans didn't exactly bomb the three Cowboy pitchers, either. Jeff Benton started for Livermore, allowing just one hit before being relieved by Greg Frates in the fourth. Frates also pitched well, allowing one hit. Jeff Renna finished for the Cowboys, pitching four innings and allowing one hit.

Cowboy mentor Kevin Drake admitted the win was rough, but said "It really didn't bother us that much, really."

The Cowboys play again Friday with a non-league game against Washington of Fremont on the latter's field.

Monte Vista nine tops Acalanes, 6-1

LAFAYETTE — Monte Vista High School opened its non-league baseball season here with a 6-1 win over host Acalanes amid the typically icy winds at the Dons diamond.

Pitching was the key for the Mustangs as, despite the sadistic chill factor, they gave up just two hits.

Starter Greg Goodman gave up both during the first four innings, struck out five in a row during his three inning mop-up stint and didn't give up a hit or a walk.

Coach George Cockerton was pleased with the pitching performances that offset a dismal five-hit offense.

"Goodman looked good, but he's pitched better in scrimmages," he said (MV n-hit Ygnacio Valley over eight innings Friday). "Jardine was a surprise, though. He's been sick recently, so this was the first time he's pitched."

According to associate coach Red Jones, Jardine's best pitch is a naturally tailing fast ball — effectively a hard slider.

While Monte Vista's pitching was seemingly in mid-season form, the hitters were not as the Mustangs scored their runs with the aid of only four hits. The tallies came, somewhat typically of early-season play, with great help from the porous Acalanes defense.

Mark Silva singled to left to start the game. After Mike Mattson walked, Don catcher Chris Buscher tried to catch Silva off second but his throw sailed into center field giving Dave Piechler, who got both Don hits, a chance to throw it into the MV dugout, scoring Mark.

A single by first baseman John Finley and a triple by Walt Finn brought in two runs before Finn scored on a wild pitch by mildy effective Acalanes hurler Brian Aiello.

With one out in the second, Bill Howard and Silva reached on consecutive errors by Don shortstop Bruce Johnson. A passed ball and a stolen base advanced the runners to second and third, from whence they scored on a line single to right by Kevin Jones.

Piechler scored Acalanes only run, singling in the third, going to second on an error and coming home on a pair of fielder's choice plays. Eager to leave the Dons' chunk of California tundra, Cockerton concluded a brief interview by pointing to Finn and Mattson as two of his more aggressive hitters.

Amador swimmers breeze in rout of Irvington

Amador swimmers captured eight out of 10 first-place spots as the Dons blasted Irvington, 108-48 in Pleasanton yesterday.

Keeping their perfect pre-season record intact, the Dons outpointed the Fremont school in nine of 10 events.

Amador opened up the meet with an impressive victory in the 200-yard medley relay. The team of Matt Pearson, Bill Burns, Bruce Yarraguirre and Mark Allen finished with a time of 2:07.6 while Amador's team of Jeff Bacc, Wilton Machado, Jeff Mooney, and Brian Schermer finished second with a 2:12 clocking.

Steve Prutch and Brian Story each picked up two first place spots for the Dons. Prutch won the 200-yard freestyle and the 100-yard backstroke while Story won the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard freestyle.

One of the few bright spots for Irvington was Mike Henry. Henry won the 50-yard freestyle with a 26.4 clocking, three-tenths of a second better than Amador's Allen. He also took the 100-yard butterfly, easing to a seven second win.

Amador's other first place victories came in the 500-yard freestyle and the 100-yard breaststroke where Dan Knauer and Bill Burns won for the Dons.

The meet was never in doubt, as the Dons built up a big lead, and coasted to the victory. In fro-soph competition Amador crushed Irvington 97-61.

Dublin soccer

Panthers edge Ocelots, 1-0

The Panthers edged the Ocelots last weekend, 1-0, in Dublin Girls Soccer.

Lisa Sundberg scored the winning goal. Bonnie Plener played strong defense and Pam Burdue, Yvette Greathouse and Lori Lucia sparked the offense.

For the Ocelots, Lisa Yurk, Denise Hawes and Mary Allen were top players.

Cathy Cannon scored two goals as the Hawks beat the Rolins, 3-0. Jennifer Dithick had the other goal. Chrissy Cannon, De Durossette and Denise Frazier carried the defense.

The Hawks and Leopards fought to a 0-0 tie. Dee Dee Myers and Kirsten Liske anchored the Hawk defense. Beth Bell and Jamie Carwin were outstanding in the Leopard backfield.

George Garratt pushed across the winning goal just 20 seconds away from the finish of the first extra period.

Mark Jennings' goal in the first half helped send Dublin to the extra period.

This was the Shamrocks' second straight victory in State Cup action, and it was preserved by goalkeeper Danny Scott. He had 21 saves in a masterful performance.

Danny Reyes and Jimmy Grant were the sparks to Dublin's offense. Rocky Orman and Robert Whitmore anchored the defense.

The Dublin Angels caught the San Jose Rangers, 2-1, in an Association

Cup contest. Brian Lockhart had the winning score. Brian Burdue scored Dublin's other goal. Brad Harris had 13 saves in goal. David Vassar and Rod Walker were the keys to the Angel defense.

The Bears raced out to a 17-0 first quarter lead and coasted to a 37-22 win over the Trotters. Mike Rodriguez had 10 points, and Mark Hitesman, seven. Dan Schaffer of the Trotters scored 19 points and Scott Doham had eight.

The Bruins rolled to their seventh victory without a defeat, thumping the Trojans, 25-12. Jeff Thompson had seven points, Kevin Elvram, six, and Steve Laffin, five. Dave Ferguson of the Trojans scored five.

Geothermal researchers at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory are will test a new turbine prototype this spring. LLL precision machinist Eugene Bill inspects the prototype which will be used to harness the total flow of liquid and vapor from geothermal flows. The turbine rotor is 3.5 feet in diameter and weighs 300 pounds.

New geothermal turbine tested by Lawrence lab

LIVERMORE — Geothermal researchers at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory are planning tests this spring of a new turbine prototype.

The prototype was designed at LLL and is one of several designs to interest researchers who are developing methods and materials for harness the total flow of liquid and vapor from geothermal wells more efficiently. Conventional geothermal power plants use only the vapor or steam.

The researchers will measure the efficiency of the prototype using the LLL Geothermal Test Facility, capable of simulating a wide range of geothermal flow conditions using water instead of brine.

Complementary research at the lab is exploring the very complex chemistry of geothermal brines and their production, particularly those in the Sea area of Southern California.

The lab hopes eventually to test advanced turbine designs in the field. The prototype turbine rotor is 3.5 feet in diameter and weighs 300 pounds.

It was machined from a single aluminum forging by LLL's high precision, five axis, numerically controlled milling machine.

LLL is operated for the U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration by the University of California.

The Bicentennial is about to be celebrated in grand style by local citizens who come from south of the border — the Latin-Americans.

The Valley's LASO (Latin American Services Organization) members have planned a fiesta for the weekend the DeAnza Expedition is expected to march through the East Bay. DeAnza was the first explorer to prove a land route existed between Mexico and California, and his expedition paved the way for the Mexican colonization of this area.

To remind people of the Latin history of this region, LASO planners have arranged a program of well-known personalities and colorful folk dancing, highlighted by guest artist Ricardo Montalban.

Members of the DeAnza re-enactment expedition have been invited to share the gaiety.

Among the performers will be the Ballet Folklorico; the Mariachi Aztlan band; Francisco Prado and his flamenco troupe; the Ballet Infantil Jalisco, a children's folk-dance group; Armando Velozo of TV Channel 60, producing the show; TV personalities Al Gutierrez of Channel 2 and Terry Lowry of Channel 4; and many other stage and recording artists.

Tickets to the April 3 extravaganza are available through the Paramount and are being sold throughout the Bay Area. But the choice seats, front-row-center in all sections, can be had by contacting LASO members immediately. See box below for details.

An alternative to more police

Taxpayers in Livermore served notice on all local governments when they refused to approve a tax override to provide "badly needed" additions to that city's police and fire rosters.

Now it is time to drop the other shoe — A declaration to the people that expansion of our "safety services" might not be needed after all.

Livermore's top officialdom reacted to that ballot defeat for a tax override by explaining, "Now we will be unable to respond to all those 'nuisance calls' ... kids raising hell in the neighborhoods, domestic squabbles and so forth."

Question — If Livermore's police can decide not to answer such calls in the future, then why were they ever answering them in the past? And why does the suburban citizenry insist on overloading the police force with these "nuisance calls" ... in Livermore, in Pleasanton and in Dublin-San Ramon?

Livermore is now going to be forced to accomplish an economy of movement that is probably long overdue. City leaders everywhere are coming to grips with the same mandate. "We will no longer be able to send policemen to chase dogs, firemen to chase false alarms." If that is what tax overrides are needed for, then thank goodness Livermore's electorate showed all of us a little leadership by refusing to advance still more tax monies for such a frivolous waste of a vital service.

Each police or fire officer added to the local roster means an additional outlay of $25,000, per year, and climbing. It is an expense the community will never be able to trim back ... as Oakland may soon discover after long court tests and perhaps a bitter strike.

It is time local government started looking ahead, rather than lamenting the past. City hall should be telling us what these services will cost, three and five years down the road. And we are long overdue for some tough talk on better application of essential services, while cutting back on such silliness as policemen playing baby sitter to the neighborhood malcontent.

We can start making meaningful cuts in the cost of local government when we face up to the fact that much of what we now do is costly pampering of the populace ... like running around town with flashing red lights, responding to delinquents from seven to seventy.

could be more than offset by ballotting June 8 at Dublin polling places.

The immediate irony of Murray plans to go back to the voters with the bond again is that the resolution, ordering a bond election June 8, was acted upon on the same night (this past Monday) that Linda Jeffery, a staunch opponent of the bond, was scheduled to be sworn in.

However, virtually at the last minute, Mrs. Jeffery's swearing in was held off because canvassing of the vote had not been completed.

Thus, any chance of Mrs. Jeffery being seated prior to a discussion of the resolution, was wiped out.

And with it went any chance of any community pressure being brought to bear on trustees — to keep the $1 million bond issue off the June 8 ballot.

The original notice of special meeting sent out by the Murray district indicated Mrs. Jeffery's swearing in would have preceded action on the resolution. All told, the speed with which the resolution was scheduled gave any segment of the Amador - Murray community little chance to mount a plea against the measure's re-insertion on the June ballot.

The next three months will be far from an ideal time in which to wage a bond or tax election campaign — especially for school boards and school administrations.

Contract negotiations with teachers, which enters a new era with the advent of the Rodda Bill, should keep all concerned quite engrossed.

Sound and Fury

Walt Hecox

Senatorial candidate Tom Hayden, the young man currently seeking to unseat John Tunney from his seat as representative for California in the nation's most prestigious governing body, may well be interested in an item appearing on page one in the metropolitan dailies.

Hayden was a visitor to the valley recently, appearing at the Pleasanton Middle School as guest speaker for the local Democrat Club.

Until questioned by the man in this corner Hayden never mentioned his past as a member of the Chicago Seven, his history as a rabble rousing street orator or the outright contempt he showed for the governing bodies of these United States.

His history as an "activist" lasted for more than a decade and reached its high, or low, point, depending on your point of view, when he and six companions were tried for having conspired to cross state lines to incite a riot or riots.

When questioned the young fellow was pretty evasive and apparently with some reason.

He shot back witty answers like, "I've been asked questions like that by the House Un-American Activities Committee."

But he never told us where he stood in regard to the constitution of these United States or whether he had discarded his old ways.

Now we hear from another member of that Chicago Seven and I think his statement should be heard by those of you who might be tempted to put at least a portion of the fate of California and the nation in the hands of men like Hayden.

Jerry Rubin, the rowdiest of the rabble rousers, while pushing a new book, had this to say, of all places in Chicago, this week.

Writing a guest column for the Chicago Sun Times, Rubin "confessed" that throughout the conspiracy trial "I was secretly rooting for the prosecution ... because the prosecution was right all along." Rubin was hardly contrite. He said that guilty did not mean wrong.

"Chicago's officials and Chicago's police reacted just as we knew they would - in a manner that exposed all the darker sides of our country."

Rubin, Hayden and six others, a number which was reduced to five when Bobby Seale was permanently kicked out of the courtroom, were acquitted in 1970 of conspiracy charges in connection with riots at the time of the 1968 Democratic Convention.

Although five of the defendants, including Rubin and Hayden, were found guilty of actually causing the rioting, the convictions were later overturned by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in a decision highly critical of the way the trial was conducted.

Rubin said in the column that he and his co-defendants "made our demands on the city so outrageous because we wanted the city to deny us what we were asking. We did all of this with one purpose in mind - to make the city react as if it was a police state, and to focus the attention of the whole world on us."

The city, in turn, he said, "snapped at our bait - bait we had set for what I consider, now and then, to be patriotic reasons. To wake America about

Letters to the Times

Year around school

Editor, The Times:

In view of the fact that the Murray bond issue was not passed, monies are short and times are hard, maybe we should reassess our views somewhat. Instead of building a new school maybe we could build multi-purpose rooms at Donlon, Cronin and Lydixsen, these schools have no multipurpose or lunch rooms ... a new law has been passed that all schools will have to serve one hot meal a day to children of low income families without identifying the child.

There is one alternative to building a new school ... it's called Year Around School! In one plan the students go nine weeks and are off three weeks, however they may attend intersession, which deals with Arts, Crafts, and field trips ...

In my research I found schools give out the calendar at least forty-five days in advance so parents can plan their vacations and if family vacation must be taken during the school weeks, make up work is given. If the Dolon plan were cancelled and Wells school were increased in size by 50%, Year Around School would give all of the 7th and 8th graders in the district an equal opportunity for a "Quality Education" and still be a smaller school than Donlon is at the present time.

Messy neighbors

Editor, The Times:

This letter concerns the "un-concern" of a good number of people which some of us are compelled to call neighbors ... The neighbor in question is the "I Don't Give a Damn" type, hereafter, I'll call him "Idgad."

Idgad is that neighbor that owns three cars and a truck ... none of them run, and they have not run for some time ... Every now and then, Idgad and some of his pals will work diligently at tearing out the guts of one car or another and proceed to spread every lifeless part half way into the street, spilling oil on the side walk ... I worked two jobs to save enough to get a place out here. And now this! "It's my yard and I'll do as I please," Idgad has been heard to say.

There are laws against littering on the freeways and parks, fines for over parking, somewhere there must be a law against this type of unconcern ... but what of my right to a presentable, clean neighborhood. Please Mr. Editor, print this letter, and maybe, just maybe, Mr. Idgad will read past the funnies and take heed.

Editorial truths

Editor, The Times:

For a long time, our community has had to endure the bitter invective of the Hayward based Tri-Valley Herald and News. Their editorials have been filled with half-truths, distortions and unjustifiable allegations. They have heaped unwarranted abuse on sincere and loyal public servants like Don Miller, Glen Dahlback, John Pitts and Bob Pritchard; and they have attacked numerous citizens whose concerns for this Valley were inconsistent with the economic interests of the Herald.

The Herald and News has done more damage to our community than any one person or group of persons. For the past decade, they have been the single most divisive negative influence in the Livermore Valley.

Fortunately, the electorate in Livermore is intelligent enough not to be taken in by yellow journalism. Witness the recent defeat of Herald and News candidates Buckley and Wright. For the past four years, the pro-developer candidates of the Herald and News have fared poorly at the Livermore ballot boxes.

With a track record like that, it is very surprising that the Herald and News does not give careful consideration to changing its editorial style. They and the community as a whole would benefit.

Tax rejected

Editor, The Times:

A word to our new City Council and perennial city staff. Be not deceived, the rejection of the tax measure was not a vote against additional expenditures for the police and fire departments or the personnel. It was a vote against the allocation of existing tax dollars for less important or, in the minds of who pay the bills, non-essential items.

It seems that those who are elected and/or hired to provide what we want, decide to spend our money for what they want. Then they presumptively think we are gullible enough to tax ourselves over and over again to get what we really want. "When will you ever learn?"

To our good and dedicated police and fire personnel let me say, I support you and the things the tax measure would have provided. But I insist that our elected officials and their hirelings rearrange their priorities and give you what they acknowledge you need, by cutting out lesser things.

Would you believe a general plan that embraces the totally unnecessary East Bay Regional Park District which offers us absolutely nothing, but will give us the privilege of paying thousands of additional tax dollars for this nothing?

But we never learn, we keep electing people who support the same policies as their predecessors.

George W. Perkins
Livermore

Smaller hospitals

Editor, The Times:

The inanity of the proposal by the city council of a tax to be levied on doctors practicing at Valley Memorial Hospital is but another faux pas concerning that hospital.

Firstly, the absurdity of having one large facility to serve the entire valley is incomprehensible; even with eventual expansion VMH took a gamble and lost. Smaller community hospitals seem more plausible in every way, especially in convenience for patients and their families.

Secondly, the proposed tax on the doctors is probably illegal, as Tom Bond stated, so why is the city council even considering such a move without the necessary and appropriate inquiries? The San Ramon doctors can hardly be blamed for their talk of building their own hospital over which they will have cognizance, and not be at the mercy of a potentially harmful city council.

Election analysis

Editor, The Times:

Regarding the Livermore election analysis made by Walt Hecox in the Times on Friday, March 4, please receive our congratulations. Of all the election analysis in all the local papers by all the writers, we feel Mr. Hecox gives the most accurate and factual analysis of how Livermore voters feel.

If the candidates against the current city council philosophy had joined forces to back two representatives of the majority, Dahlback and Kamena would never have been elected. By splitting the 10,701 votes, the majority lost. We hope Mr. Hecox would run for city council ... or better still ... we would like Hecox for mayor.

Vietnam and the other wrongs that were tearing the country apart." "Let's face it," he continued. "We WANTED disruption. We PLANNED it. WE WERE NOT innocent victims. We worked on our plans for a year before we came here (Chicago)."

Rubin declared, "The prosecution said we were guilty and you know what? We were guilty as hell. Guilty as charged."

Perhaps Rubin has changed in the eight years since those hectic days in 1968.

Rubin indicates as much. The title of his new book is "Growing up at 37."

He says he no longer considers himself an extremist but a "surviving American" whatever that is.

Probably Rubin's confession will be taken many ways by many people.

To me it means he had complete disregard for the government of the United States of America in 1968 and during that riotous trial in Chicago two years later, and that he believes today his behavior was correct.

That makes Rubin incontrovertibly wrong.

I must assume too that what Rubin says goes for his co-defendants including Tom Hayden, a gentleman better known as Jane Fonda's husband.

Rubin and his pals in 1968 chose to, in his own words, discredit as completely as possible the United States in the eyes of the rest of the world. They succeeded to a large degree.

They sought to destroy as much of the government of these United States as completely as possible and eight years later are proud of their effort. They completely disregarded that government of laws and not of men to which Abraham Lincoln referred 113 years ago.

Now one of these men wants to be a United States Senator. Are you going to let that happen?

round the town

"What in the world are you going to do with that big house of yours once all the children and grown and gone?"

It is a question each of you face. But take it from one who knows ... the chicks may be grown, but they are never gone. Our mortgage manor has never been livelier, or fuller.

It's not that we didn't try for a little loneliness. Sent the oldest off to the Australian outback; another to marriage and job in SF; yet another to Oregon, and one more to Chico. This month they will all be back at home base. Plus two or three more they've added.

The occasion (you will remember) is the return of the Australian rancher, with family. Naturally, such an event warrants response from family, hither and yon, and some I never knew we had. If they should all decide to gather in the living room at one and the same moment, the whole place would capsize. But I will be safe ... getting myself a quiet room at the Holiday Inn.

"We can put one in the den, another in the playroom, and then there's always that day bed in the upstairs study." The lady of the house had early training as an Irish quartermaster, for the IRA, I believe.

"If they all decide to stay here on one and the same night, there wouldn't be enough spare beds in the whole blessed block to handle 'em," I advise her. But to no avail. She has seen the enemy (space) and she will not be conquered.

It wouldn't be so bad if it were just a matter of finding sleeping space for X number of bodies. But our daytime enrollment is that much larger again, and that much more unpredictable. Take this one brief scene from just the other afternoon, for instance.

"Don't back up," I am suddenly warned, "you're about to step on the baby."

"That's okay," I respond, agreeably, "I'll just have my lunch off the mantle. I often eat standing up."

"Somebody grab the TV remote control dingbat off of Michaelen before she hurts herself," is the next order. But no fear. The kid has already flung the thing across the room. Baby's fine. TV monitor's got the hiccups.

"Here come the kids from next door again," the cry goes out. "You grab the dog, I'll grab the baby." There's a number of us not yet trained in the care and avoidance of small babes. The dog looks upon each as the enemy, threatening her happy home.

Kids from next door love the babes from Australia. Too much, is the problem. The four-year-old football player would like to teach the two-year-old from Queensland his version of the American grid. Which is mostly tackling and falling down.

"Just touch the baby gently, Nathan," football player is advised. "No, don't throw the ball at her, she's a little young yet for a fullback."

At that moment there is a great crashing sound. "It's okay," a voice from the dining room announces, "Nobody's hurt." But no mention of property damage. We will find out at the inventory, when they're all gone, and just the old folks left to take stock.

"Who left the back door open?" I demand, in great grandfatherly manner. "The babes are both missing, and it's starting to rain."

"Don't get excited," is the response. "Those are just the girls from next door who are playing in the yard. The babes are in the den with their father, or somebody."

A great Dachshund yelp immediately informs us that the babes have somebody else in tow other than their father.

"The dog! The dog has bitten the baby!" the anxious grandmother screams. Fortunately, the father (who has been sneaking a quiet moment with the morning paper in yet another corner of the house) is not so easily shook.

"No big deal," he announces, in his new-found outbreak patience. "Just Tuny and Michaelen fighting over the dog." Trying to get half each, I suspect. These are trying moments for Dachshunds.

"You can't blame the dog," I protest, when the lady of the house and myself find ourselves alone, at last. "She's 14, and spoiled, and that makes her 70-plus on our age scale."

I am feeling 70-plus myself, at day's end, and wondering if Holiday Inn offers kennels with double beds.

"Aren't the babies just so very beautiful," she announces, snuggling up on the pillow alongside, and looking like a very self-satisfied grandma.

"Yes, they are quite a pair," I agree. And so popular too. That's the trouble. Too many admirers, a steady flow of visitors. Grandparenting would be a cinch, if everybody else would go away and leave us do our thing.

X Rated movies

Copy of a letter to:

The Dublin Cinema:

I am disappointed to see that you are showing two x-rated movies. Your establishment has been blessed with the capability to influence the people of the community in which you exist. With the capability comes a responsibility to add to the community in a positive way. You have forgotten, hopefully temporarily, this responsibility in choosing to show the movies now on display. These are destructive offerings you put before us.

If all of us chose profit as our highest value and as our lowest, helping one another live a full and Christian life, I dare say the world would be in even worse shape than it is. But you have the means to affect the way the world is in a way most of us don't. Each of us can build our community in his own individual way. You have mass appeal and therefore your responsibility, while less personal, is nevertheless one which can affect the lives of many. You are now unfortunately affecting the young by advertising and offering these movies, thereby saying to them that this is okay ... that it is an acceptable form and even educational form of escapism. You affect the mature by appealing to their baser natures but saying how tastefully it is done. Your decision to show these movies has already begun a gradual erosion of our lives. It is an affront to me and my family. It hurts to see it here.

Would Christ have shown these movies ... or attended them? Please stop showing them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Someone may want to do something special just for you today. It might defeat your purpose to bring an unwanted person into the act.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you sit on a good idea you get today too long, it's very likely to get shelved and never put to the test.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be sure that services you're having performed today are done by people whom you trust. Don't experiment with unknowns.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The course of least resistance is likely to be the most appealing to you today. Things that should be attended to may be neglected.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be careful to whom you pass on confidential information today. If it reaches the wrong ears, it may be misused.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Before lending anything of value to a recent acquaintance, it may be wise to get to know this person better.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Halfway measures won't cut it for you today. Persistence, determination and resourcefulness will be needed to achieve your goals.

West opened the king of spades. Arthur won with dummy's ace and called for dummy's jack of clubs. East played low and Arthur studied.

Why had West failed to open the king of hearts? Surely he would have made that lead with both ace and king. Therefore, East held a high heart. Could he also hold the king of clubs? No, because he would have responded with two kings.

Arthur played his ace of clubs and was home with his game.

Arthur Robinson and Bobby Jordan of Philadelphia were probably the best pair in North America some 10 years ago. They retired while still young, but many of their hands are worth study.

Here we see Arthur playing in five clubs. Jordan's failure to double two diamonds or try notrump over that bid by West was because he hoped his opponents would bid on.

Sure enough, East tried three spades which would have been set two tricks, but Arthur's hand called for a four-club bid and Bobby raised him to game.

44 permits are issued by city

PLEASANTON — The city issued 44 building permits last month for single family home construction, all of them sewerage to the Valley Community Services District treatment plant.

The bulk of the homes to be built on the permits will be in Pleasanton Valley. Total valuation of the 44 permits is an estimated $1,165,500. Fees for the permits cost the developers $5,171.

In other building permit action, two commercial permits for places valued at $210,000 and one industrial permit at $40,000 valuation also were issued.

Other permits were issued for 26 alterations, additions or repairs, one sign, 10 swimming pools, 29 permits renewed and five extra inspections. Total assessed valuation increase for these was $117,085. Fee revenues from the permits was $3,457.10.

Permits other than buildings kept the building inspection department busy during February as a total of 296 permits for heating, ventilation, plumbing and electrical work were issued. Fees for them totaled $3,532.

Other fees collected by the city included $19,620 for city water, $10,598 for city sewer, $7,566 surcharge, $23,965 bedroom tax, and $1,001 for checking building plans.

David McKendree Key (1824-1900) of Tennessee, Postmaster General in President Hayes' cabinet from 1877 to 1880, was the first former Confederate officer to serve in the federal cabinet. Key was a lieutenant colonel in the Confederate army.
